
Leadership in Action: Introduction from Kevin Wilde

Lesson Transcript

Leadership is a crucial skill in today's workplace. Listen to a quick introduction to this course by Kevin Wilde, an Executive Leadership Fellow at the Carlson School of Management to learn more about why he created this course and how to use it to maximize your leadership potential.

Developing Your Skills as a Leader

With over 30 years of corporate career experience in the areas of leadership and talent development in major organizations such as General Mills and GE, Kevin Wilde is thrilled to share his knowledge in leadership. He actively speaks in various conferences on topics such as leadership, learning and talent management. Kevin is currently an Executive Leadership Fellow at the Carlson School of Management in Minnesota as well as the President and Founder of Flagship Consulting Group, LLC.

In this Leadership in Action course, Kevin shares tools and skills on how you can grow as a leader, knowing where those leadership moments are, recognizing and addressing challenges as a leader, and much more! You will also get a chance to apply these new skills with our practical application assets throughout the course. Ready to begin? As Kevin Wilde said, 'become the leader that you're meant to be.'
